

Description:

Statistics from 2016 show that only one in eight people who meet criteria for a substance use disorder will get formal addictions treatment. The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) has recognized this problem and is working to address it. However there are many clients with substance use problems who end up in psychotherapy and refuse to get formal addiction treatment. To make matters worse progress in psychotherapy can be difficult or nearly impossible unless the substance use is addressed. This training is designed to help psychotherapy practitioners improve in identifying substance use problems in clients and find effective ways to address these issues.

Learning Objectives:

1. Review the current state of science with regards to substance use problems and the prevalence of the issues in psychotherapy practice.
2. Familiarize participants with available screening and assessment tools which can help assist therapists in identifying substance use problems.
3. Discuss current evidence based practices and how they are similar to current psychotherapy practices.
4. Practice utilizing skills in working with clients with substance use challenges.

ABOUT US

Family Therapy & Recovery P.S. is a Washington State Certified behavioral health agency which provides a broad range of outpatient behavioral health treatment options for all ages. All of our staff hold a minimum of a masters degree and are licensed in mental health counseling with most also being certified in chemical dependency. Our highly trained staff provide fair and honest evaluations for mental health as well as drug and alcohol problems including DUI assessments. Our outpatient programs are also highly individualized and we seek input from all care providers. We provide our full range of services for youth and adults while being in network with the majority of insurance plans and employee assistance programs.

We can help if you have a client who needs an evaluation for either chemical dependency, mental health or a combination of the two. When referring clients to us you can be assured that we will take their mental health needs into account and we will find your input very helpful.

We also provide DBT style groups for adults which can be used to support the individual treatment you are providing.
